By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 8.—[Special.] There has been nothing of an exciting nature in Camp Dimond today. Last night there was count of the desire of some of the boys to get into the city. Over 100 men formed and marched about the camp cheering the officers of the day and the guard, when someone took it upon himself to suggest a break for liberty, and all made a rush for the line.

 They were met by the guard, numbering only 24 men, and a general row was about to ensue, when Col. Palmer, who was in command of the main post, appeared and quieted the men. This morning he arrested about a dozen of the ring-leaders and put them in the guardhouse, but they were released after a lengthy lecture.
 This is the first disturbance of any kind and as a rule the boys are quite orderly.
 Last night Sergt.-Maj. H. Schwannack arrived from Los Angeles, and at once took charge of refreshments at Gen. Johnson's headquarters.

THE TARGET SHOOT.
 Company E of San Bernardino spent yesterday morning and this afternoon in target practice, and up to date have made the best average. The company has some of the best shots in the regiment, but they did not come up to their average. Fred Muscott, the best shot in the company, used to make more than 600 hits, but he did not ball from the eighth striding, and retired immediately after leaving the range.
 The company's average will be about 23,
 three more than that made by Company A.
 The score is as follows:

Jack the Peeper.

ELIZABETH (N. J.), Aug. 8.—There is a mysterious man here, known as "Jack the Peeper." It is thought he is a sort of monomaniac on the subject of women charms. Within the past four months he is known to have entered thirty-five houses. He goes armed, but his object is not robbery, for he never takes anything. He always goes on the women's bedroom. In nearly every instance the inmates have been awakened by his entrance,

PLANS FOR THE SISTERS' COLLEGE ALL SETTLED.

The Deal Closed and the College Goes on the Crippen Tract—Marshal Barretto's Fight with an Obstreperous Prisoner—Personal and General.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 8.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Your correspondent was informed today by Mr. Hawes that the deal is closed regarding the $500,000 Sisters' college, and that it is to be placed on the Crippen tract. This therefore settles all the rumors and real estate moves that have been made since the big project was first mooted, and although at one time the Santa Fé tract people announced that they were victorious there is now no doubt that they are out in the cold. The papers and contracts are all signed by Mr. Crippen and are en route to San Diego, where they will receive the signatures of the Sisters. According to the terms of the deed Mr. Crippen donates twenty-two acres of land on his tract a mile out of town and also agrees to construct and put in operation a street-car line from the in-shut down the heart of downtown San Diego when the school closed. The school is to be converted to a convalescent home, with ninety days, say, to keep things going until the building is completed. The institute is to be operated as a college, and in connection with it will be a day school for which you be the director of the town will be privileged to attend. The Sisters of the order of St. Joseph are the ones who have the affair in charge and will make this place their central headquarters. At present they are in the hands of the men on the coast, one at San Diego, one at Oakland, and the other at Los Angeles.

Town Marshal Barretto was summoned late last night to the Boehm block to arrest a man in it. It was a peaceful break-in, the room was empty. On arrival, the officer found that the peace-disturber in question was a banished man named Gray, who was evidently on a big foot. The Marshal made the arrest and escorted him to the prison in lockup. On reaching the place of incarceration Gray, who had meanwhile been threatening to make things lively for his captor, made a rush at Barretto, who, to protect himself, for Gra weighs over 200 pounds, picked up cane and struck at his assailant. Gra fell with a nasty cut on his head, and was at once carried into confinement where a doctor attended to his injuries.

LOCAL NOTES.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR PILGRIMAGE TO THE CORONADO.

An Obstreperous Husband Who Claims Some Latitude Because He Is a British Subject—More Developments in the McFadden Case—The Child Ruined.

The Los Angeles Knights Templar excursion to San Diego started yesterday morning from the Santa Fe depot at 10 o'clock. It was a very large excursion, the party completely filling 10 passenger coaches. They numbered 600 people, including ladies and gentlemen. It is conceded to be the largest excursion of the Cœur de Lion Commandery that has ever left the city. It will be an exceedingly enjoyable affair, and the excursion will be remembered for a long time by the participants.

In connection with the occasion, the following mysterious programme was issued, and is being carried out by quite a number of those who went along:

Illustrious Noble Attend: Leytel el Khams, First day, Twelfth month, Hejra 1260, Dhu'l Hajjal. Answering to Friday, August 9, 1889, 7:30 o'clock p. m.

Magnificent Ceremonial. Festival of Eed el Kourbon!

Hearken Ye: It hath come up to us from the South country by the mouth of one of our faithful (Zikkers on him) that many unregenerate sons have invoked our permission to participate with us in the feast of Moolid, the founder of our Affilich Derishes.

The Holy Prophet has said: "Be not negligent in seeking out the unbelieving people, though ye suffer some inconvenience." Therefore have I commanded them that from the reception of my permission to partake in this sacred rite until our entering the Caras at half past the hour of 7 on the appointed day shall remain on their hands knees, and shall hold no communication one with the other. To such as shall abide this command strictly will I accord this sacred privilege.

And proclaim unto the people a solemn pilgrimage; let them come unto thee on foot and on every lean camel, arriving from every distant road. Bismillah.

Iteration: Thursday, 10 a. m.—"During the pilgrimage it behooves a man to have a constant guard over his words and actions, and avoid all quarrelling or ill-language, and to apply his whole intention to the good work he is engaged in."

At 5 p. m.—"Afterward let them put an end to the neglect of their persons, encompass the house and eat heartily of the brute cattle which he has bestowed on you."

At 8 p. m.—"If any secret sin lies at your door unrepented, the bloody hand will appear unto you."

At 11 p. m.—"But the pious shall be lodged in a place of safety."

Friday.—"And when ye shall have eaten, disperse yourselves and stay not to enter into familiar discussion." Night—"The night will be intense. Will you be there?"

Saturday.—"It is good for a man, when he hath toiled long, and is weary, that he rest and refresh himself." Night—"Eat and drink of the bounty of God, and inquire not too curiously into other men's failings."

Sunday.—"And when you shall have finished the performance of the holy ceremonies, turn again to your habitation with gladness."

Monday.—"The emulous desire of multiplying riches employeth you until ye visit the grave."—Koran, cii, 498.

AN OBSTREPEROUS HUSBAND.

He is a British Subject, and Claims Some Latitude.

Yesterday afternoon Mrs. R. A. Rising, who lives at No. 46 Aliso road, called at the police station to enter complaint against her divorced husband, who she said had been annoying her. She said that, although she was divorced from the man, he persisted in staying about the house, and that she had to support him. He frequently came to the house late at night under the influence of liquor, and if the doors were locked he broke them open with a hatchet, and made himself generally disagreeable. She had stood the annoyance as long as she intended, and she wanted that he be protected, especially as Rising had on several occasions used insulting language to her.

Officer Fowler was sent to the house, and found Rising curled up in bed. He at first refused to get up, and tried to "bluff" the officer, but finding that this would not work, he demanded the officer's number and his name, intimating that he would have his official scalp. Rising was finally got out of bed, and the officer returned to the station, being followed in a few minutes by Rising, who wanted to see the Chief. That official was not in, and he was turned over to Capt. Roberts, to whom he made his complaint. He said that it was true that he had been divorced from his wife, but as he was a British subject, and American divorces were not recognized in England, he did not consider that he had been legally divorced, and that he could have married again while he was in England if his American divorce had been recognized. He denied that he had ever broken open the doors, but did not deny that he had remained in the house after Mrs. Rising had ordered him to leave.

Capt. Roberts told Rising that as he was in America, he would have to abide by American laws, and that his wife was entitled to the protection which she asked for, and furthermore that if there was any further complaint against him he would be arrested and locked up.

Rising is the man who preferred charges against Officer T. Roberts, several weeks ago, and as the commission gave him a hearing he got it into his head that he could do as he pleased.

THE BUNCO CASE.

Detective Metzler Explains the Game Again.

The trial of Frank L. Rose, charged with "buncoing" Judge John B. Haskins, of New York city, was resumed yesterday morning. During the day considerable testimony was introduced for the prosecution, but nothing new elicited beyond what was brought out at the preliminary examination.

Detective Theodore Metzler explained the game of "bunco" to the jury, and testified that it had not been squarely played with Judge Haskins from the description he had received about that affair. He explained the impossibility of any one winning at the game the way it was played in the defendant's room.

The prosecution introduced one of its strongest points during the afternoon in the expert testimony connecting Rose with the ledger found in his room. The entries in the ledger and the telegram dropped by Hood while attempting to escape were proved by expert testimony to be in Rose's handwriting. J. M. Elliott, cashier of the First National Bank, gave very clear and convincing testimony on this point. The defense objected at every point, but the evidence was permitted to go in. It will be remembered that Rose, in the preliminary examination, testified at first that he had made no entries in the ledger, but afterwards went on the stand and admitted that he had. One of the names he wrote in the ledger, Bingham, and the name on the dispatch were the same.

The prosecution had not concluded its case when court adjourned until this morning. The testimony yesterday seemed to make quite a strong impression upon the jury against the defendant.

A BELLICOSE LOVER.

He Goes Courting a Girl with a Revolver.

Billy Westcott, the shorthand reporter, created something of a sensation last night by putting in an appearance at the residence of Johnny Dean, at No. 133 North Bunker Hill avenue, armed with a big revolver, and declaring his intention of killing a young lady who is visiting Mr. Dean's wife.

Mr. Dean was absent from home at the time, but a neighbor came to his place of business and told him what was going on, and he at once drove up in a hack, but Westcott had taken alarm and made himself scarce. The police office was notified and a search was made for Westcott, but up to a late hour he could not be found.

Mr. Dean was seen by a reporter last night, while he was looking for Westcott, and the facts in the case were learned from him. He said that he knew Westcott in Tombstone, where he formerly lived. The young lady in the case also lived in Tombstone, and was at one time engaged to Westcott, but broke off with him on account of his dissolute habits.

When Westcott learned that she was in the city he called on her, but she refused to have anything to do with him, and he then commenced making threats against her life. A short time ago Westcott came to his house, where he met him, and he then ordered him off the premises, and forbade him to come about the place. Westcott, he said, had made frequent threats against him, but would never come around where he could see him, so that it was impossible for him to do anything. Westcott has been drinking heavily, and if he is caught he will be locked up on a charge of disturbing the peace and also making threats.

IT WAS A CRIME.

Condition of the Little McFadden Girl.

Mention was made yesterday morning of the case of the little McFadden girl, who was on Wednesday removed from the custody of her mother, a prostitute on New High street, in whose charge she had been for the past two weeks, during which time she was constantly thrown in the company of the most depraved of both sexes.

The child, as stated, is only 11 years of age, but is very bright and intelligent, and when brought to the station she told an apparently straight story, saying that several men had attempted to seduce her while she was staying in the negro women's houses, but that she had remained pure.

The girl was kept at the Orphan's Home Wednesday night, while the police pursued their inquiries about the case, and from what they learned they were convinced that she was not telling the truth.

Yesterday morning Humane Officer Wright took the child to Dr. Morrison's office, where an examination was made, and it was found that her person had been recently violated. She was then closely questioned, and finally admitted that about a week ago, while spending the night with one of the negro women, on New High street, she had been raped by a man named Billy Abbott. She made this confession to Humane Officer Wright, and this morning he will swear out a complaint against Abbott. As the age of consent has been raised from 11 to 14 years, the case is likely to go very hard with him. In the meantime the girl will remain under the control of the Humane Society.

The League Takes Up the Malla Garrett Edgcomb Case.

The Social Purity League adopted the following resolutions yesterday:

EAST SIDE.

Personals—Bad Trick on a Livery Firm—A Ducked Fisherman.

Myrtle White returned yesterday from Crescenta, where she has been visiting friends for the past week.

Miss Gertie Ritter, Mattie Kennedy, Mrs. Chase and Miss Cones will start this morning for Catalina to take in the sports and beauties of that island resort.

Mrs. H. Miller took her departure yesterday for Seattle, where she expects to meet her husband, who went from here six months ago to find work.

Mr. Simpson and family started yesterday for Coronado Beach, where they expect to spend a short vacation.

Two men called upon Pierce Bros. on Wednesday and procured a team to drive to Pasadena, and were to have been back at a specified time, but they failed to materialize. Things looking a little suspicious, the liverymen began investigating the matter, and not until late in the evening was the team heard from. The young men had not been to Pasadena, but about the city and surrounding country, driving the team in a haphazard way.

They then hitched it by the side of the road and left for parts unknown. The team was taken in by the police, and now they want the men who did the mischief.

Jack Gooden had the bad luck yesterday to lose a good horse, that he recently purchased.

Dr. Newton returned from Santa Monica yesterday to attend to matters around home, and will make only a short stay, as his family are still in Santa Monica.

Mrs. E. W. like many others on the east side of the river, concludes that she must go to Santa Monica for a vacation. She leaves today.

Harry Riddle left for Catalina yesterday to take in the fishing and hunting of the island.

The Rusdon Iron Works finished the last engine-house for the cable company and took their departure for San Francisco yesterday. The work shows for itself, and needs no comments.

The work on the viaduct and extension to Frichard street will soon be finished, and the cable will soon be humming on Downey avenue.

John Barnhill of East Los Angeles met with quite a serious accident at Santa Monica last Tuesday. He was out in a boat trolling for fish, being seated in the stern of the boat and holding the line wrapped about his hand, when, to his surprise, a Spanish mackerel seized his hook, took a side shot, and before John could extricate himself he was drawn overboard. As the boat was sailing quite fast, some time elapsed before he could be rescued, and when taken up he was nearly exhausted.

Mr. De Berry and wife left for San Diego yesterday on the excursion train.

Mrs. T. D. Romans left for Santa Monica yesterday for a vacation of a couple of weeks.

The social gathering at the A.O.U. W. Hall last evening was well attended. Ice cream and cake were served, and some of the old-fashioned breakdown dances were indulged in.

Wednesday afternoon a white man named William Burridge was arrested on the complaint of a negro named J. D. Buford, the keeper of a small restaurant on Downey avenue, near the bridge. Burridge's son was formerly in the employ of Buford, but quit some time ago, having at that time a balance of $1.30 due him on account of wages.

Buford has never paid this, and yesterday Burridge went into the place, and demanded to have the money or satisfaction. The restaurant-keeper attempted to put him out, when a row ensued, which resulted in the white man's arrest. Burridge was released on depositing bail.

The Glendale Road Contract—Huntington Quoted.

The steamer Protection will arrive at Redondo today from the north with freight and passengers for Los Angeles. The port is gradually assuming importance, and the steady increase of traffic is looked for.

The contract for grading the Los Angeles, Pasadena and Glendale Railroad having been let to Grant Bros., they are preparing to push the work through in the shortest possible time. The road will be completed, if practicable, in 90 days, and cars will be running from Los Angeles to Pasadena.

Now that the right of way has all been secured there is nothing to hinder the speedy completion of the road.

C. P. Huntington is quoted as giving utterance to the following statement regarding the transcontinental situation: "There will be no settlement of transcontinental troubles until the Canadian Pacific gives up its difficulties. The Southern Pacific is bound by the interstate commerce law, and the Canadian Pacific is not; hence arise the difficulties. As to the Pacific Mail, the transcontinental roads are buying tonnage from it to the extent of $35,000 a month. This is a large subsidy, but I think the Pacific Mail is doing better than it could if it went out. As to the railroad situation in general, the trouble we are hearing so much about among the railroads arises purely and simply from the fact that the owners of the railroads are not their managers. The stockholders will have to have the deed set aside and the property sold to satisfy her judgment. She also won this suit, which was tried before Judge O'Melveny."

The Supreme Court in rendering its decision has probably put it out of the power of the girl to satisfy the judgment, as Elias has no other property.

The Supreme Court held that the mother never parted with the title in the deed to her son, inasmuch as she has always remained in possession; and the purported deed to her son is incorrectly acknowledged, in that her certificate of acknowledgment to the deed is a simple and ordinary one, whereas she, being a married woman, to be good, the certificate must show that fact. Hence the ruling that the deed from the mother to the son is invalid and void, and the title is in the mother, she by that deed never having parted with it. It necessarily follows that the defendant, Elias, had no title to pass by his pretended deed.

THE OBJECTIONABLE CLAUSE.

Maj. Jones Manages to Get It Eliminated.

In the meeting of the State Board of Trade at San Francisco, Tuesday, M. M. Estee, chairman of the Committee on Irrigation in relation to arid lands, submitted the report of the committee. He said it had been drawn up to avoid favoring any particular locality.

Before it was adopted President Jones of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce asked for an explanation of a clause in the report which had been censured by a Los Angeles paper. The clause reads: "This condition of things (profitable irrigation, without changing the surface of the land) extends from Mount Shasta in the north to Tejon Pass in the south, a distance of 500 miles."

He said that Tejon Pass is north of Los Angeles, and the people there seem to think that the clause excludes the lands of Los Angeles as being irrigable with profit.

After considerable discussion the objectionable clause was stricken out and the following inserted instead: "These conditions are found to exist in all the large valleys of California."

A QUAKER'S DOZEN.

Richard Stepe, the well known proprietor of the Quaker Dairy, No. 30 Ellis St., San Francisco, last week sent the following letter to The Edwin W. Joy Co.

"My family have been taking Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla now for months with splendid results. Our experience has been that after taking it regularly for a short time and getting the system started right, an occasional dose thereafter keeps the system in perfect condition. A peculiarity of your vegetable compound inexplicable to me is, that it does not lose its effect, but seems to accomplish the same results continually. As a liver and bowel regulator and corrective it is perfect. We would not be without it in our house. In fact I have just bought a dozen bottles for the reduced price."

A. M. Rowe, of 523 Jones street, S. F., also writes that it has been his habit for years to awake in the mornings with a headache and an exhausted feeling; but since the first bottle he has had no return.

THE "Bone" solemnly, editorially and officially denies that its janitor is a Mugwump. The "Bone" will next be attempting to deny that it has "Know-nothings" on its staff.

At the meeting of taxpayers in Turnverein Hall, on Wednesday evening, some very strong expressions of opinion were made against the Ballona sewer scheme and its projectors.

Mr. EATON admits that surveys have shown that it is perfectly practicable to run a sewer from the lowest part of Los Angeles to a point on the Los Angeles River about six miles south of town. This disposes of one favorite obstacle of the Ballona schemers.

The Trombone is driving the last nail in its coffin in thus actively and openly taking the part of the boddies, who want to throw away $400,000 of the people's money on an extravagant and impracticable sewer scheme, when a perfectly feasible and economical system is at hand.

A RESPECTED colored correspondent of the Trombone expresses the hope that all who have indorsed a certain colored statesman will continue to "about in one voice, 'R. C. O. Benjamin, Consul to Antigua!'" It is just possible that the gentlemen in question are growing rather tired of shouting. Give 'em a rest!

TO HEAR the boodle organ talk, in its corner cards, one would think it was a first-class philanthropic institution, run for the benefit of a grateful public, instead of being a fourth-class truckling tool, which is for sale, cheap, to any thief, or syndicate of thieves, who are simple enough to throw away a few dollars of their prospective stealings for the sake of securing its hypothetical "infoence."

The impudence of the Person with the one-dollar reputation, in talking about straight Republicanism, and criticising the motives of THE TIMES, is something altogether unique, of its kind, and causes a broad grin to overspread the countenances of all who know the Fakir and his methods, and that, by this time, includes about 97 per cent. of the adult population of Los Angeles county. The only "straight" things about Boyce are his treachery, thievishness and careful avoidance of the truth. As far as these elements of his character go, we are willing to admit that he is thorough and complete. His chief failing, as the engineer of an "organ," is that he doesn't know how funny he is known as little about as truth, honest and consistency.

The boddies' organ, having failed in its attempt to keep the public in ignorance on the sewer question, is now adopting other tactics. It is trying to scare the voters into letting the boddies handle that little $1,280,000. In yesterday's Trombone appeared an editorial which, after announcing that two deaths had just occurred in this city from diphtheria, solemnly warned all who love their children—or, in case of lack of children of his own, any one else's children—or sisters, or cousins, or unts, to vote, without fail, for the impracticable and extravagant Ballona-boodle-Gun-Club sewer bonds. We ought, says the boodle organ, to be willing to give the ring the handling of three times $1,280,000, in view of those two cases of diphtheria. Money should be no object. The boodle organ is artful and desperate, but it won't work. Sensible Los Angeles taxpayers and citizens are not going to be scared by the boodle organ's latest Bogie.

THE EXAMPLE OF VERNON.

In this issue will be found an interesting description of a trip made by a Times reporter through the sewer irrigated district of Vernon. It is especially valuable just now, when the question of a sewer farm is being discussed, from the fact that the soil around Vernon is similar to that a little further south, where it is proposed to establish a sewage farm, it being composed largely of loose sand, which requires fertilization even more than it does irrigation. Where river water only is used, there can be but one inferior crop raised during the year, while, in the other, two and three crops of barley and corn, in turn, can be produced in abundance and five and six crops of alfalfa.

As to the objections to the sewer on the land, those who use it say there can be little or no objection to the use of sewer water on sandy lands, for the reason that the liquid is immediately absorbed, and the residue being oxidized, there is nothing disagreeable or offensive about it. The complaints have come chiefly from people who had bought land in the neighborhood with a view to speculation, and from real estate agents. Many who formerly opposed it are now using all they can get and asking for more, and many others want it who cannot get it.

There is enough land of this same character down toward Florence, in the section where it is proposed to utilize it, to consume the sewer flow of the city for the next 50 years. The people in the neighborhood are anxious to get it, and this is not surprising, when it is considered that land which would not bring $5 an acre rental before sewage was brought upon it, now rents readily at $25.

Another point which should not be lost sight of is that river water is extensively used in winter to wash the alkali out of lands of that character. There are alkali lands in that section which would gladly utilize the surplus water in winter.

Such, then, is the situation in regard to the utilization of our sewage, which the boddies propose to spend $440,000 in carrying to the Pacific Ocean. On the 30th of this month they will discover that their little scheme has been blocked by an enlightened public opinion. Times are not so flush just now that we can afford to spend $1,280,000 on a defective sewerage system.

WHAT A REFORM SCHOOL SITE SHOULD BE.

A correspondent, who has had many years' experience in the management of reform schools in the East, had a communication in yesterday's issue, in which he gave in brief some points as to what a site for a reform school should be. If an attempt had been made to obtain the exact opposite of what is needed the Whittier site would about fill the bill.

Our correspondent says that the State Reform School of Ohio began with over 1200 acres, yet years ago additions were in demand. Our farm should be large enough for 200 inmates, which will probably be in the school in less than three years. The Whittier site has just 40 acres.

The Otto site contained running streams and living springs of water and large cisterns to every building, although in a climate of copious rains. Yet, recently, an artesian well was found necessary. Water for irrigation is but a small part of what is required for a reform school. Provision should be made for at least 200 inmates, with attendants, for washing, bathing, cooking and drinking; for cattle and horses, and for the case of fire. The water supply of the Whittier site, as we have shown, a ditch belonging to E. J. Baldwin, which he is able at any time to shut off, and which he will, in any case, need for himself within a few years.

The commissioners, in selecting a site like this, in which one of their number is interested, evidently ignored the interests of the State altogether, and Mr. Waterman, in approving the choice and trying to get the State to buy 120 acres adjoining at a high price, has shown that he is in sympathy with the gang.

A LESSON IN BRICK AND STONE.

In New York city is a building in process of erection, a splendid and lofty pile, 12 stories in height, which is of itself one of the most forcible sermons that could be preached to the laboring men in this country.

It is a business house, built after the most approved style of architecture, and to one of the iron pillars of the building is attached a piece of brown paper upon which is printed the following: "He who builds, owns and will occupy this marvel of brick, iron and granite, 18 years ago walked these streets penniless and $50,000 in debt. Only to prove that the capitalists of today were poor men 20 years ago, and that many a fellow facing poverty today may be a capitalist a quarter of a century hence if HE WILL. Pluck, adorned with ambition, backed by honor bright, will always command success even without the almighty dollar."

To this unique inscription is added the signature of the man whose success it records. What a sermon of encouragement it is, that building to the poor man. The conditions which gave success to this man surround every poor man who has the energy, the pluck and determination to succeed. Honesty, unquestionable integrity, intelligent effort and unwavering determination are invincible weapons with which a man may carve his way to prosperity. In no country in the whole world does this possibility of rising present itself so favorably as here. The accident of birth cannot make or mar the prospects of a man if he has the ambition to struggle for himself. There is no place so exalted that he may not aspire to it. Wealth and influence and power he may win if he is indeed a man.

Mr. EATON says that the highest rate charged in California for irrigating water will not yield a revenue from the sale of the sewage to compensate investment in its distribution. Undoubtedly this is true, in regard to an extravagant system, carried on trestles across swamps, at a cost of $440,000, to a place where the sewage is not wanted; but it will not apply to a system which would bring the sewage, at a cost of only $150,000, to a point where the land-owners are willing to contract for more than we can supply.

To run the sewer to Long Beach merely for the purpose of making it available to lands in the vicinity of Nadeau vineyard, is much like paying fare from Los Angeles to San Pedro by way of Santa Barbara. The city can build the outfall to Ballona and build a pipe line to the Nadeau vineyard for a quarter of a million dollars less than to build to the sea by way of this vineyard.

The above is from Mr. Eaton's apology for the Ballona route. It is not contemplated to build a pipe to the ocean. It is not needed. A syndicate offers to build a sewer to a place where they will take all the sewage for $150,000, a saving of $300,000 over the Ballona route. In the winter the storm water can be turned into the river, where it belongs.

As we showed yesterday, the present sewage of Los Angeles does not amount to more than 250 inches, of which the South Side Company get 150 inches, for fourteen years more, leaving only 100 inches, of which 50 inches are to be given to Mr. Anderson Rose for right of way over his tract on the Ballona route. In other words, we are to give Mr. Rose 50 inches in order to obtain permission to spend $440,000 in laying pipes and building flumes across swamps to carry another 50 inches to the ocean and dump it there. Great scheme, that!

Mr. EATON says that suitable brick material is found at convenient points along the line between the ocean and the railroad on the Ballona route, and that the railroad offers convenient facilities for the delivery of materials along its route. That is certainly quite encouraging. Wonder whether the railroad would put on special working-men's trains to accommodate the small army of men who would be needed to keep the flumes, pipes and brickwork in repair along the swamps.

Mr. EATON's objections to the Los Angeles River route are mainly founded on the presumption that sewage will be run in quantities into the river. As a fact, during the greater part of the year there will be a demand for more sewage than can be supplied on the dry, porous lands between here and Florence, as is shown by the testimony of the people of Vernon published in this issue. It is only the winter storm water that would be run into the river.

The boddies and their organ are working hard to make the public believe that we ought to pay $440,000 and 50 inches of sewage to dump the other 50 inches of sewage in the ocean, when we can utilize the 100 inches for $150,000.

It keeps us pretty busy to expose the lies of the Ballona boddies as fast as they are sprung, but "truth is mighty and will prevail." The public is rapidly becoming enlightened as to the real facts in the case.

We present our readers this morning with another valuable and striking cartoon, showing a certain malodorous boddier out duck hunting.

The aggravating types made us talk yesterday about "annihilating" a large crowd of foreign population. We wrote it "assimilating."

ANOTHER BATTLE.

John Ellingsworth and Billy Mehan Matched.

The Los Angeles Athletic Club has arranged an interesting contest to be decided at its rooms on the 18th of September next. Yesterday evening articles of agreement were signed by John Ellingsworth, brother of the middleweight, and Billy Mehan, who lately defeated George Mulholland, to fight to a finish, Marquis of Queensberry rules, for a purse of $700, at the rooms of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. It is stipulated that both men shall weigh in on the night of the fight at 135 pounds, give and take five pounds. Mehan will resume training at Billy Manning's place in the course of a week or so.

TASCOTT AGAIN.

He Is Arrested This Time at Laredo, Tex.

The County-seat War in Kansas Becoming Serious.

An Arkansas Murderer Expelled by the President.

Sufferers by the Johnstown Horror Taking Steps to Sue the Owners of the South Fork Dam.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Laredo, Tex., gives a description of Tascott, the suspect under arrest there, which tallies more closely with that of the much sought fugitive than any previous capture. The prisoner's appearance corresponds exactly with the description contained in the circular issued by the relatives of Snell, the millionaire, for whose murder Tascott is wanted. The scars on Tascott's elbows and legs have counterparts on the Laredo man and though there is no gold in the prisoner's front teeth, a cavity which had once been filled is there. The arrest grew out of the suspect knocking at the Sheriff's residence and asking for something to eat. The Sheriff noticed a similarity to Tascott's description, and after questioning the young man subsequently put him under arrest. The prisoner was induced to write a few words and his handwriting strongly resembled the fac-simile of Tascott's chirography. The Sheriff has forwarded a photograph to Chicago.

A COUNTY-SEAT WAR.

Two Rival Kansas Towns Ready for a Fight.

TOPEKA (Kan.), Aug. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Adj. Gen. Roberts, who went to Garfield county, Kan., on Monday to investigate the threatened county-seat war there between the towns of Ravenna and Eminence, returned today. He reported that when he arrived at Eminence he found that company of 100 armed men had been organized to proceed to Ravenna, the present county seat, and remove the records and money to Eminence. He commanded the organization of armed men to be disbanded, and the command was obeyed. He made them promise to raise no disturbance until the county-seat question is settled in the courts. He reports that the excitement over the matter, and the bitter feeling of the towns for each other, is liable to lead to a conflict any time.

THE CHEROKEE STRIP.

Those Opposed to its Sale in the Majority.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] There was received at the G. A. R. national headquarters here today a circular from Commander Booth of the Department of Kansas, in which he strongly urges all veterans to attend the National Encampment at Milwaukee.

TALLIEQUAH (T. T.), Aug. 8.—To the great surprise of every one, complete returns from Monday's election of members of the Cherokee Legislature show the success by a large majority of the Downing party's nominees, who are supporters of Chief Mayes and his policy against the sale of the strip to the Government. Chief Mayes has not returned a reply to the commissioners' offer as he promised. He was expected here today. The commissioners can do nothing until his answer is received.

THE JOHNSTOWN DISASTER.

More Bodies Found—The Dam-owners to Be Sued.

JOHNSTOWN (Pa.), Aug. 8.—Three more bodies have been taken out of the ruins near the lower end of town.

A meeting of business men was held this evening to take steps toward determining the liability of the South Fork Fishing Club for the great disaster. Committees were appointed, and a fund will be raised to help make the suit of John Thomas and sons against the club a test one.

The body of a 15-year-old girl was found near the business part of Main street this evening. It was covered with ground, and was remarkably well preserved.

TWO MURDERERS.

One Reprieved—The Other to be Hanged Today.

FORT SMITH (Ark.), Aug. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] Jacob Spangy and Jim Walker, two men sentenced to hang tomorrow, spent the day full of suppressed excitement, because of efforts of their attorneys and friends to secure a reprieve from President Harrison, who had been reached at Bar Harbor and was considering their cases. Meanwhile preparations at the gallows went on, and hope faded until at a late hour this evening a dispatch came reprieving Spangy until August 30th and declining to interfere in Walker's case.

Chicago Fruit Sales.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The Earl Fruit Company sold at auction today three cars of California fruit, as follows: Bartlett pears, $2.25@2.50; Beurre Hardy, $1.30@1.45; peaches, $1.55@1.80; Tokay grapes, double crates, $3.00@4.30; Muscat, $2.00@3.70; Gros pears, $1.25@1.40. The demand was good for peaches and grapes. Market on Bartlett pears is improving. Grapes are carrying better this season than last.

Porter Bros. & Co. sold today six carloads, as follows: Bartlett pears, $1.65@2.55; peaches, $1.50@2.05; some in bad order, $1.00@1.50; Muscat grapes, $1.45@1.80; Tokay grapes, $1.90@2.00; Gros pears, $1.55@1.85; egg plums, $1.15@1.30.

An Innocent Man's Sentence.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8.—Darwin W. Pratt, who was the St. Louis agent for the McCormick Harvesting Machine Company of Chicago, went to the State Penitentiary at Jefferson City last night and surrendered himself. Post, the book-keeper, embezzled and on his statement Pratt was indicted as an accomplice, tried and sentenced to three years in the Penitentiary. This was several years ago, and the Supreme Court has just affirmed its decision, which sends Pratt to the penitentiary. It is believed that he is innocent and will be pardoned by Gov. Francis. Pratt's family here is highly respected, and the case is a very sad one.

Races Interrupted by Rain.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Rain this afternoon retarded the opening of the seventh anniversary regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen and fourth annual regatta of the Mississippi Valley Amateur Rowing Association. Only two contests were attempted. In the trial heat for the single sculls (senior), Donahue of Toronto won. In the trial heat for the double sculls, Nagle and Pelkington of New York won. The remainder of the race was postponed until tomorrow.

FORGER COLLUM ARRESTED.

MINNEAPOLIS (Minn.), Aug. 8.—The stupendous series of forgeries committed by J. Frank Collum is still the reigning sensation in Minneapolis. Collum was arrested late this afternoon upon a warrant issued by F. F. Davis, attorney for Mr. Blaisdell.

TRAIN-ROBBERY AGAIN.

A NERVOUS OUTLAW GOES IT ALONE.

He Holds Up the Conductor of a Wisconsin Train, Plunders the Passengers and Makes His Escape.

By Telegraph to The Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The Wisconsin Central passenger train from Chicago which passed Chippewa Falls, Wis., at 4 o'clock this morning, was held up and robbed by a single man between Chippewa Falls and Abbottsford half an hour before. At the hour named a man entered one of the sleeping-cars of the train, commanded the conductor and porter to throw up their hands, then proceeded to go through them, taking all they had. One passenger was also robbed, and a shot or two was fired at the porter, but no one was hit. The robber pulled the bell-rope as soon as he completed the robbery, and when the train came to a stop he jumped off and escaped.

The man is described as having the appearance of a woodsman. He wore a slouch hat, carried a gun, and had a big knife in his belt. He entered the sleeper and drove the porter to one end of the car. The porter did some yelling to awaken the passengers, whereupon the robber fired. This put a quietus on the porter. The robber took from the conductor $30 and a silver watch; from the porter a gold watch and a small amount of money; from a passenger some money and a watch. He tackled another passenger, but the latter told him the conductor had all his money. As a matter of fact, however, the man had $500 on his person.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Several More California Appointments Announced.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] The following appointments were today made: Thomas W. If matters are satisfactorily arranged, the party will start next month, and proceeding by boat up the Yukon will winter there, and continue operations next year.

Weisinger was reported to be under arrest in the hands of his friends in Concordia. When the Sheriff and militia went there today they were informed that Weisinger had escaped last Tuesday. It is stated his friends carried him to a railroad station where he took a train.

HARRISON IN MAINE.

The President's Trip to the Pine Tree State.

Grand Overtures Tended All Along the Route.

Brief Speeches at Several of the Larger Cities.

The President the Guest of Blaine at Bar Harbor—Narrow Escape from an Accident.

By Telegraph to The Times.

BOSTON, Aug. 8.—[By the Associated Press.] President Harrison arose much refreshed this morning, and pleasantly received the early greetings of members of his party and his hosts representing the State and city. A late breakfast was served in the ebony room of the Vendome. Shortly after 8 o'clock the party entered carriage, and with a cavalry escort, drove through the crowded streets to the depot to a rattling accompaniment of cheers.

The special train with the President and party pulled out of the Boston and Maine depot at 9 o'clock en route to Bar Harbor. A large crowd witnessed the departure, which was made to the accompaniment of a salute by Battery A and continued cheers of the crowd.

The first great demonstration after the departure from Boston was made at South Lawrence. The crowd around the depot cheered as the train stopped, guns thundered a salute, flags waved and bands played. The President went to the rear of the car and shook the hands of hundreds of people. Gov. Russell of New Hampshire and staff joined the train at this point. Mayor Mack formally welcomed the President to Lawrence. The President bowed a response. Against the train a series of "Long live the President," and the train moved off.

At Haverhill there was a big crowd, a great array of welcome, cheers, cannons, etc. The President and party took their places as escort to the President.

At Old Orchard the summer residents and permanent population turned out en masse and gave the President a hearty reception. At the depot at Portland, Me., the President was greeted by a great crowd. Hon. T. B. Reed introduced the President, and the latter bowed, amid great cheering.

Next came Bangor, with another crowd, more cheering, and a salute of 21 guns. At Augusta the gentlemen who joined the train were Mayor Loring, Postmaster Marley, Hon. John L. Stevens, Minister to the Sandwich Island, and National Committee-man J. Manchester Haynes.

MORE ENTHUSIASM.

BAR HARBOR (Me.) Aug. 8.—At Water-ville an immense crowd greeted the arrival, and the President was conducted to a stage erected in sight of the cars. Mayor Mehan introduced the guest to the audience, and the President addressed the crowd briefly.

"The purpose of my coming to Maine," said he, "as you well know, was to visit your distinguished citizens, my personal friend and Cabinet officer, James G. Blaine. [Great cheering.] I beg you will therefore allow me to simply thank you for the cordial welcome which you have greeted me and to wish you all good-bye."

Amid the cheering the President returned to the train. Bangor was reached about 3:30 p.m. While a salute was being fired, Congressman Boutelle, Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, Mayor Briggs, ex-Gov. Davis and other gentlemen entered the car and greeted the President. Congressman Boutelle introduced him to the multitude, who gave three cheers.

At Mt. Desert there was another crowd, and Secretary Blaine, who had come over on a special boat from Bar Harbor, walked along the platform between the people, and, stepping into the car, greeted the President.

The President and his Secretary of State, followed by the others of the party, left the cars and walked through the throng to the steamer, which was brightly decorated everywhere with decorations could be placed. They kept their places on deck until the wharf at Bar Island was reached and the island reception began. A national salute was fired. The President and Blaine landed and walked along the wharf to where carriages were awaiting.

A SLIGHT MISAP.

The two notables entered a stylish landau. In turning a corner one wheel grazed the wheel of another carriage, which was trying to turn at the same time, and the latter's wheel was smashed. Walker Blaine, Halford and Lodge followed at once in carriages drawn by Blaine's horses, and a dozen vehicles closed in behind. They arrived at Stanwood, Mr. Blaine's cottage, where the President and Secretary of State were received by Mrs. Blaine.

This evening the President is dining quietly with the Blaine family.

Grain Field Burned.

MERCER, Aug. 8.—Early this morning fire was discovered in the grain field of G. S. Eastman, two miles from Athol. Nine hundred acres of wheat had been cut and stacked in four rows along the field. Thirteen of the stacks were entirely destroyed. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, as each stack was fired separately. The stubble between them was not burned. The train was owned jointly by Eastman and Max Guiler. The latter's part was insured for $4400. Eastman's portion was insured in a Stockton company, but the amount of the insurance is unknown.

Pat Killen Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 8.—Pat Killen, the puglist, and several of his party were arrested at a theater last night while giving a sparring exhibition. They were afterwards released on bail. Capt. Short, who made the arrest, said it was caused by Killen's offering to knock a man out in four rounds.

Chief of Police Crowley said this afternoon that he proposed to enforce the law against prize-fighting, and would arrest participants no matter where a fight might take place.

A Chautauqua Sermon.

CHAUTAUQUA (N. Y.), Aug. 8.—In a powerful and eloquent lecture on "Pope Hildebrand," Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus of Chicago today traced the rise of Cesarism in the Church of Rome, denounced a renewal of its temporal power and declared that as

PASADENA NEWS.

THE SEMI-ANNUAL DEATH-RATE RECORD.

The Health Department—Considerably Shaken Up—Gleanings Here and There—Hymenial—The License Ordinance—Local Mention—Personal Gossip.

PASADENA, Aug. 8.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] Hearing that there was likely to be a reorganization of the health department, the TIMES reporter called on Dr. W. L. McAllister this afternoon to learn what changes would be made. That official said he had understood the law had been changed by the last Legislature, but that the power, as formerly, was left in the hands of the County Board of Supervisors. City Attorney Polley was next seen and said that little change had been made, excepting that it was the duty of school trustees to see that each scholar in the public schools had been vaccinated, otherwise they could not be admitted. Fearing that if a change was made in the health department it might increase the death rate, the pencil pushed gleefully the following figures and figures. The death rate is just about one-half as large as towns of the same population in New York and Pennsylvania. Of the deaths nearly one-half resulted from consumption, two-thirds of the invalids being non-residents. It is as follows:

During January there were 23 deaths, 9 being females; and 9 deaths resulting from consumption.

In February, the shortest month, there were 15 deaths, 5 being females. From consumption, 3.

In the month of March there were only 14 deaths, 4 of which resulted from consumption. Females, 3.

During June there were 11 deaths. Females, 4. From consumption, 5.

This ends the half-year, during which time there was a total of 88 deaths, 34 being females. Total from consumption, 38. During July there were 9 deaths, 5 being females. From consumption, 4.

This shows a grand total in seven months of 97 deaths, 47 resulting from consumption. Males, 53; females, 39.

Thus far this month there have been three deaths, which makes a total of 100 deaths in 230 days or an average of one death every two days.

THE LICENSE ORDINANCE.

The new license ordinance, which is now being prepared by City Attorney Polley, will prove a barrier to itinerant peddlers and dealers living in Los Angeles, who come out here to ply their trade. The home merchant will be put on more of an equality with those who live outside of the city, which is not the case at present.

The ordinance will be put to first reading at the meeting of the Board of Trustees on Saturday. The old ordinance is considerably amended.

HYMENIAL.

This evening, at the parsonage of the Congregational Church, Rev. D. D. Hill united for life A. J. Wright and Miss E. F. Tabor, both residents of this city. The knot was tied in the presence of a few invited friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright go to housekeeping in a few days in a cottage on Pasadena avenue. The groom is a most respected citizen, and is a member of the firm of Bennett & Wright of South Fair Oaks avenue. Good wishes!

LOCAL BUDGET.

The Southern California Tea Company is dispensing iced tea to a thirsty public gratuitously.

Complaint is made that a restaurant on the north beach at Santa Monica is in the habit of playing a "skin" game on an unsuspecting public. There is no denying the truth of this statement.

A large number of the young people of the Methodist Church enjoyed a straw ride through town and out into the suburbs last evening.

CONSIDERABLY SHAKEN UP.

Mrs. Cavanaugh, an invalid residing at San Francisco, received a shock to her nervous system this morning, from the effects of which she is not likely to recover for many days. While out driving with Mrs. Charles White of this city, their horse caught his foot between the elevated track and a plank crossing on East Colorado street, causing the buggy to stop short and precipitating the occupants to the ground.

Mrs. Cavanaugh was thrown on her shoulder, and in the fall hit partly on the back of her head. The ankle, too, was slightly sprained. Mrs. White escaped with but a few scratches in the face.

Dr. Michener was summoned immediately, and at this hour reports Mrs. Cavanaugh as resting quietly, but still nervous from the shock. The tracks at this place were elevated only yesterday, but in putting back the planks the workmen seemed to have lowered one of them below the rail.

HERE AND THERE.

F. J. Polley comes out strongly in favor of a paid fire department.

The question of a right of way along Garfield avenue, which was to have come up for a hearing before the Board of Supervisors, has been continued until next Wednesday.

The City Council commences to sit as a board of equalization on Monday. If you have complaints prepare to make them now, not next fall.

The Harmonia Quartette is the name of a new musical organization. The talent is first-class and is composed of two ladies and the same number of gentlemen.

A decided compliment was paid a Union reporter by Marshal McLean this morning. When that gentleman was approached for news, he said: "You don't need any news. You can make it fast enough without any material." Many thanks.—[Union.]

The flooring is being laid in the Strong building. The front of the structure presents a very striking appearance.

A horse hitched in front of the Blinn Lumber Company's office, broke from his fastenings this evening and dashed off into Union street into the great "unknown."

A social took place this evening at the residence of C. M. Phillips, at Oak Knoll. It was given under the auspices of the Christian Church.

PERSONAL.

S. Washburn has returned from San Francisco and Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. J. B. Young left for Long Beach this afternoon, to be absent until September.

W. P. Bird, cashier of the Elsinore Bank, was in town last evening.

W. U. Masters goes down tomorrow to the pilgrimage at Coronado Beach. George E. Hutchins and family have gone to Liverpool, England.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Charles Victor Lundstrom was admitted to citizenship yesterday morning by Judge Cheney.

It is reported that the camp-meeting at Downey has had a large number of conversions, and will continue until next Sunday evening.

There are undelivered telegrams at the Western Union Telegraph office for L. Whipple, A. A. Allen, Colonna (cable), Harry C. White.

Charles William (colored) was sentenced by Judge Cheney yesterday to two years at San Quentin. Williams pleaded guilty to burglary Wednesday.

Mary Jane Ward, who has been in jail often than any other woman in the State, was taken in again yesterday by Officer Walker, who found her on Sixth street, too drunk to take proper care of herself.

There was no meeting of the Park Commission last night, owing to the absence of Mayor Hazard, who went with the Knights Templar to San Diego. Messrs. Bryant and Hubbell have not yet returned from the East, so that a quorum could not be had.

Carmen M. de Renteria is charged with practicing medicine without a license. She was brought before Judge Cheney yesterday morning, and a motion to set aside the information was denied. She pleaded not guilty and the cause was placed on the trial calendar.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday as follows: Arctes Charles Clark, aged 46, of Olympia, and Artissima Dorland, aged 38, of Whittier; H. D. Green, aged 24, and Mary Richards, aged 19, city; A. Wells, aged 32, and Indiana Justice, aged 32, of Azusa; Joseph W. Baker, aged 30, and Edith Curtis, aged 18, of Norwalk.

Charles Scott, who is now in jail awaiting a second trial on the charge of murdering Annie Le Brun, his mistress, is showing up in a somewhat unenviable light. Yesterday S. M. Payton, his attorney, notified Judge Cheney of his withdrawal from the case, on the ground that Scott refuses to pay his fee, although he has the money.

A bullet was extracted from the neck of United States Detective Jack Temple yesterday by Dr. H. C. Royer. It was received last June by the detective in the Canon Diabolo robbery, and was shot through his mouth, lodging near the jugular vein. The bullet, which was shown in the TIMES office last evening, appears badly battered from contact with the jaw.

The county Board of Equalization will close its labors Saturday. Yesterday afternoon the board has been listening to complaints, and closed that branch of the work yesterday afternoon. Those who have complaints to make and have put it off to the last moment have lost their chance in getting at the board to try to have assessments reduced. The board will now take two days for private consultations and wind up their tussle with the assessments.

Yesterday morning a couple of men broke into the room of J. W. White, at No. 901 Sentous street, and stole a lot of carpenter's tools, breaking into a chest. White saw the men as they were getting out of the window, and watched where they concealed their plunder, after which he tried to capture them, but they gave him the slip. The affair was reported at police headquarters, and one of the detectives was put on the case. The place has yet been found of the thieves.

Last evening a man named Ward came to the police station, looking as though he had been pretty roughly handled, and wanted the steward of the Arcade restaurant arrested for assaulting him. He said the steward took place in the Anchor Saloon, on Main street, where the man had knocked him down, and then kicked him in the ear. He was told that it would be necessary to swear out a warrant, and said that he would be around this morning for that purpose.

Last night about 10 o'clock John McKenny raised a disturbance in the saloon at the corner of Main and First streets, and when he was put out he began firing rocks at the barkeeper. One of the bystanders knocked him down just as he was aiming a big boulder at a man's head, and he then came to the police station to make complaint. One of the saloon men also came along, and at the station McKenny became so obstreperous that he was locked up on a charge of disturbing the peace.

George Baxter was arrested yesterday afternoon on the complaint of José Condé for disturbing the peace, making the third complaint which has been sworn out in the case. Baxter first swore out a complaint against Condé for battery, when the latter retaliated by swearing out a counter complaint against Baxter for carrying a deadly weapon, and this failing to hold, it was followed with another for disturbing the peace. Both of the parties are colored politicians, and the first trouble grew out of a discussion of the sewer-bond proposition, and is a fair sample of the frivolous litigation with which the lower courts are constantly crowded.

PEOPLE'S STORE.

SELLING CHEAP DOES NOT MEAN SELLING CHEAP GOODS.

Where the Difference Lies—Prices Quoted on a Few Articles—Quality Always Tells the Tale.

PEOPLE'S STORE, LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9, 1929.

Selling cheap does not mean that of selling cheap goods, but it signifies selling the best possible goods at cheap or proper prices. There is no difference between our O.N.T. spool thread, eight for 25c, and that of others who sell it at five for 25c. There is no difference between our Chesebrough vaseline at 5c a bottle and that of others at 10c a bottle; nor is there a particle of difference between our colored Spectacles at 10c a pair and those of others at 50c a pair. The qualities remain the same—the price only differs. This is our aim, to give you the best at the lowest honest prices. To assure you that your money will spread over more space than the same could in any mart in the United States, or in other words, we want to establish an emporium in Los Angeles that cannot be seen this side of the Rocky Mountains, where merchandise is retailed at lower prices than merchants generally pay for the same, we are willing to devote the best years of our life to this problem of selling cheap. It is a problem we can only solve with your co-operation. It is quality that goes to tell the tale. We must sell rafts of goods to work out the knotty question. Stand with us—aid us to illustrate the example, and we will solve the problem, showing that low rates and larger sales will gain over small sales and huge profits.

BRONCHITIS.

Acute Bronchitis.

This is an inflammation of the mucous membrane lining the bronchial tubes, and is one of the most common of all the pulmonary diseases. It is a dangerous disease as it prevents the oxygenation of the blood, and in many cases it passes into the chronic stage, the substance of the lungs becomes seriously involved, giving rise to what is very properly called bronchial consumption. In the acute form there is a sense of tightness or pressure across the chest, with considerable mucus, severe cough and expectoration. This is at first a white glairy mucus, which after a time becomes purulent. The patient in some cases is obliged to sit up in bed the oppression across the chest is so great, and the sputum is clammy and profuse, rapidly sets in, and in fatal cases there will be muttering delirium, coma and death.

Chronic Bronchitis.

Chronic Bronchitis is also an inflammation of the mucous membrane of bronchial tubes. But this form more often occurs later in life, when the patient has been suffering from either ends in bronchitis or pneumonia. If it ends in bronchitis it usually passes off as a cold in the chest, and still the patient does not feel entirely well. He feels tired and languid, and is incapable of taking his usual amount of exercise, and experiences a shortness of breath, with more or less warmth in the palms of the hands. Soon after this a cough appears, accompanied by an expectoration of air thick mucus, followed by a hectic flush, loss of flesh and strength, and night sweats. In this form the patient assumes all the appearance of having a genuine case of consumption. But his primary attack of the lungs, or chronic bronchitis.

In the latter stages of the disease the mucous membrane of the larger bronchial tube softens, while in the smaller tubes and air cells of the lungs the mucous membrane becomes congested and inflamed. There are no cavities or tubercles in the lungs, but merely wasting away of the larger bronchial tubes, and death takes place from obstruction of the bronchial tubes and air cells of the lungs. The patient dies from exhaustion and suffocation, being unable to expectorate the mucus which accumulates in the passage leading to the lungs, which in some cases is sticky and small in quantity, but more commonly copious, of a light gray or yellowish green. Often times streaks of blood make their appearance in the mucus, and at times there is a disagreeable smell. Persons thus afflicted are very liable to take cold, at which time the mucus becomes clear and frothy, and it is not uncommonly the case that the patient dies in one of these attacks. Inhalation is the only system which will cure these diseases, and yet the treatment of the two forms are entirely different. In the one we must allay the irritation, while in the other we must stimulate a healthy action.

The will convince us of the necessity of fully understanding the system of Medicated Inhalations in the treatment of the various diseases of the pulmonary organs, for when properly applied there is no system of medicine to be compared to it.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance from whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then, if we can get the patient to use the medicine and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing can do with the same success.

The very best reference from those already cured.
